Annual Presidential and Scientific Meeting 2015

Brave New World
Introduction

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to invite you to attend the BDA Hospitals Group Annual Presidential and Scientific Meeting on Friday 6 November 2015 in London.

The theme for this year’s meeting is ‘Brave New World’ and relates to NHS England’s anticipated changes to specialist dental services. The new Commissioning Guides describe the direction and best practice, the concept of clinical engagement through Managed Clinical Networks, Dental Local Professional Networks and the patient journey.

The meeting will explore:

• What is a hospital? What is the appropriate setting for specialist dentistry?
• What will a specialist and consultant job plan look like? Is specialist dentistry the career for me?
• Is devolution the same or different around the UK?
• How objective is referral triage and how should it be done?
• Should we plan for the same safety and quality measures in primary care as in secondary care?
• Are dentists too compliant when it comes to using guidelines?

The brave new world has implications for training, careers and how the posts of the future will look, so this will be of relevance to recent graduates considering their futures. There will also be a fun session looking at the controversial area of triage decision-making!

The presentations will be of interest to all hospital dental specialties who may be members of the BDA Hospital Group but also to those in general dental practice and salaried services as we discuss the primary care and secondary care interface. You are all most welcome!

I look forward to welcoming you to London.

Paul Coulthard
President-Elect, BDA Hospital Group

Paul is Dean of the Manchester Dental School and recently chaired the working group that developed the Commissioning Guide for Oral Surgery and Oral Medicine. On graduation he undertook a number of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery (OMFS) junior posts in London and around the UK, several years as a general dental practitioner in Manchester and Sheffield, undertook a resident job in anaesthesia and spent a year overseas. Paul completed Specialist Training in Academic OMFS in 2000 and was promoted to Senior Lecturer and Head of Department the same year; Honorary Consultant in Oral Surgery in 2001, and Personal Chair in 2004. He also undertook research training leading to the award of an MDS in OMFS and a PhD in Neuroscience. He is an Editor with the Cochrane Oral Health Group, Editor-in-Chief of Oral Surgery and is on the Editorial Board of the International Journal of Surgery and Chinese Journal for Clinicians. He has published over 170 scientific papers.

Speakers

Sara Hurley
Sara was appointed as Chief Dental Officer NHS England in July 2015. Her career has flexed across dental public health, wider healthcare policy and healthcare commissioning as well as operational healthcare management and strategic leadership. Sara joined NHS England from Royal Centre for Defence Medicine where she worked in ensuring access to and quality of healthcare for injured personnel. During this time, Sara was also the Chief Dental Officer for the Army. In recognition of her commitment to and contribution to the Army, she was appointed as a Queen’s Honorary Dental Surgeon in September 2014.

Jan Clarkson
Jan joined Dental Health Services Research Unit (DHSRU) at the University of Dundee in 1998 and has since been the Effective Dental Practice Programme Director, conducting high quality research and promoting implementation of research evidence in dental primary care. She is a founding member of the Cochrane Oral Health Group and her role as Joint Co-Ordinating Editor has influenced her research activity. Jan is Director of the Scottish Dental Practice Based Research Network where she is responsible for the development, production and dissemination of guidance in priority areas for dentistry in Scotland.

Edmund Bailey
Edmund is a locum consultant in oral surgery at the Eastman Dental Hospital. Following a move in 2011, he was appointed as an Academic Clinical Fellow/Specialty Registrar. In 2014, he completed a NIHR funded research project on patient safety in dentistry. The main output from this was a systematic review into patient safety interventions in dentistry. Edmund’s research is widely published, with articles in the Journal of Dental Education, Oral Surgery, the British Dental Journal (BDJ) and Dental Update; he is also an author on three Cochrane systematic reviews.

Martin Ashley
Martin is a Consultant and Honorary Senior Lecturer in Restorative Dentistry in Manchester. He is the Clinical Lead for the Hypodontia and the Cleft Lip and Palate Services. Martin is a leader for Clinical Effectiveness, Safety and Quality Improvement in Manchester. Martin is an active council member of Association of Consultants and Specialists in Restorative Dentistry, BD-Uk and is the Chairman of the Examiners for the Membership in Restorative Dentistry at Royal College of Surgeons of England (RCS) and Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow (RCPs).

Pete Brotherton
For Pete, what he thought would be a quick six month job in oral surgery, turned into a career. After formative training around Yorkshire he settled into post at the Hull Royal Infirmary, where he is now Senior Associate Specialist. Pete has varied interests inside and out of work and has various roles within the British Dental Association (BDA), British Medical Association (BMA), and the British Association of Oral Surgeons (BAOS) council and is involved in the current development of oral surgery services nationally.

Leila Williams
As Director of Service Transformation for NHS Greater Manchester, Leila has responsibility for delivering the major transformation projects across Greater Manchester. Until October 2011, Leila was the Director of the Children, Young People and Families’ NHS Network and also led the ‘Making it Better’ changes to maternity, neonatal and children’s services across Greater Manchester. Its success makes Leila ideally qualified to steer NHS Greater Manchester to the successful delivery of the Healthier Together strategy.

David Thomas
After ten years as an Associate and Principal in GDP, David moved to South Birmingham Health Authority to commence a specialty training programme in Dental Public Health. David has held roles as a Consultant in Dental Public Health, Regional Dental Lead, Director of Dental Postgraduate Education and Director of Dental Public Health. David’s collaboration with the academic team has led to the production of some very innovative research into dental health equity audit. David was appointed as Deputy Chief Dental Officer to the Welsh Assembly Government in 2010 and as Chief Dental Officer for Wales in May 2011.

Martin is an active council member of Association of Consultants and Specialists in Restorative Dentistry, BD-Uk and is the Chairman of the Examiners for the Membership in Restorative Dentistry at Royal College of Surgeons of England (RCS) and Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow (RCPs).

Eleanor Bailey
Eleanor is a Consultant Oral Surgeon in Glasgow and the West of Scotland. From her research, she has established and chaired the Local Professional Network for Greater Manchester, producing clinical practice guides that have improved access and care for young children. Colette was awarded an MBE in 2013 for services to Oral Health and Dentistry.

Colette Balmer
Collette is currently a Consultant/ Honorary Senior Clinical Lecturer in Oral Surgery at Liverpool University Dental Hospital. She has an interest in teaching and training and has developed and delivered lectures and courses for undergraduates, DCPS, GDPs and postgraduates including DCTs and STs. She is an examiner for the MFDS and M. Oral Surgery RCS examinations and the external examiner for the D.D.Sc Oral Surgery programme in Dublin. She sits on the Surgical Advisory Board in Edinburgh, the Irish Advisory Board and is currently the Chair of the Oral surgery Surgical Advisory Committee.

Colette Bridgman MBE
Colette is a Consultant in Dental Public Health with PHE in Greater Manchester. Part-time, she works with NHS England supporting the development of commissioning guides for dental specialties. She has worked on a number of policies including Choosing Better Oral Health and Valuing People’s Oral Health. Colette has served as President of British Association for the Study of Community Dentistry as well as established and chaired the Local Professional Network for Greater Manchester, producing clinical practice guides that have improved access and care for young children. Colette was awarded an MBE in 2013 for services to Oral Health and Dentistry.
