Your Speaker:

Dhru is the founder of dentinal tubules. One of the world's leading dental education portals. As a founder and leader it has led the way in innovation in education and dentistry.

He graduated from the University of Sheffield in 2003, and then went on to complete a year of vocation training in general practice within the North Wales training scheme. He continued as an associate practitioner in the same dental practice for a few years, further developing his skills and gaining experience in the general dental care of patients.

Dhru has held various hospital posts, gaining further training within the various disciplines of dentistry, including working as a Senior House Officer in Restorative dentistry at the Royal London Dental Hospital, and posts of a Senior House Officer and a specialty doctor in Oral and Maxillofacial surgery at the North West London Hospitals NHS trust. During this period, Dhru also became a member of the Faculty of Dental Surgery of the RCS England. He embarked on a four-year specialist training program in the field of Periodontics and Implantology at Guy's Hospital, London and completing a Master of Clinical Dentistry degree in Periodontics at King's College, London, he is also a member of RCS Edinburgh. He now offers a range of treatments to manage periodontal diseases (gum diseases) as well as the provision of dental implants.
