All Japan Dentists’ Art Exhibition

Dealing not with dentistry in art, but with art by dentists, the All Japan Dentists’ Art Exhibition of 1983 – held to commemorate 71st FDI Tokyo Congress – features artwork from Japanese dentists ranging from watercolours and oil paintings to woodcuts.

Manners and Customs of Dentistry in Ukiyoe

Ukiyoe is a form of traditional Japanese wood-block printing. Reaching the height of its popularity in the mid-1700s, it often portrays scenes from the everyday life of the times. In Manners and Customs of Dentistry in Ukiyoe, authors Sen Nakahara, Yoshihisa Shindo and Kunihori Homma gather together 115 examples of ukiyoe prints depicting dentally-related topics from tooth brushing to dentures and extraction.
